

My name is Demetria Kirkman and I am the proud owner and creator of Heavenly Keys Studio, and we have been in existence since 2001. I am a creative individual who loves to see other people be genuinely happy. Being creative has always been my forte and what better way to exemplify creativity through art, education and music! Teaching is my passion and incorporating music with humor and excitement to our youth is so priceless. It is our mission to “Enlighten nearby Communities, Through the Art of the Piano, and One Finger at a time.”

Adding another learning auxiliary for schools was a dream that was fulfilled about 7 years ago. During that time, we were able to begin music classes for after school programs in Georgia. Our classes are designed to create an atmosphere where kids get an opportunity to be creative through music theory, sound, movement, music, art and much more!!

I have had the wonderful experience of being an educator for fifteen years, ranging from preschool to elementary school. I truly value education and being the best version of myself without any hesitations or reservations. I am forever grateful to my wonderful parents and grandparents. Through their teachings and wisdom, they have exemplified what resilience looks like.

I have been playing the piano since the age of nine years old and I have been providing music classes and piano lessons for 20 plus years. I am a proud graduate of Fayetteville State University, where I majored in Music with a concentration in piano...go BRONCOS!!! Teaching is my passion and I believe that education is priceless. Are you ready to be enlightened through the art of music?
